PROGRAM APPROACH

CARE’s capacity and experience allows us to deliver fast and effective assistance in an emergency. Our Emergency Program supports Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs) and vulnerable host communities in areas including food security, water and sanitation and nutrition. We also provide protection support to those displaced by drought and conflict, helping them secure safety and improve relationships with the communities hosting them. In settlement camps for IDPs, CARE is helping minimize risks for vulnerable groups including women and girls and advocating for equal, safe and dignified access to assistance for drought and conflict-affected individuals.

The emergency program covers areas worse hit by the on-going drought which include: Sool, Sanaag, Togdheer of Somaliland region; Nugaal, Bari of Puntland region; Bay, Bakol of South West region; Mogadishu of Banadir region and lower Juba of Jubaland state with intention to expand to Gedo. CARE is also working in Mogadishu region and plans to open a new emergency operation in Galmudug region. The emergency program currently has 15 projects providing emergency response to 1.6 million people in Crisis and Emergency (IPC 3 and 4) with lifesaving support in the most affected regions.
